

LEE SLONIMSKY BIO

Lee Slonimsky is the Managing Member of Ocean Partners LP, a New York City based long/short equity fund founded in 1999. Lee began his investment career by managing a family fixed income trust starting in 1975. In the early 1990s, while teaching writing to students at the Wharton School, he formed an informal stock market club that led to Ocean Equities Consulting Group Inc., the managed account business that eventually became Ocean Partners LP.

Lee has also served as investment adviser to a number of socially responsible investors, including the Humane Venture Fund of the Humane Society, AHRC NYC, Confluence Philanthropy's Southwest Green Banking Fund, and Next Era Capital Partners LP, a Phoenix Arizona hedge fund under development that is majority Native American owned.
